Lecture on Ethics In Business Investigations Approved For Virginia Bar MCLEs

Boston – March 1, 2007 – Marquet International Ltd. announced today that its educational program, Business Investigations: Legal, Ethical & Practical Considerations, has been approved for Mandatory Continuing Legal Education credits by the Virginia State Bar. This presentation was developed following the scandal involving Hewlett Packard's botched internal investigation of leaks from its Board of Directors. Christopher T. Marquet, a 24-year veteran investigative expert, presents this lecture to corporate inside counsel, outside counsel and litigators, directors, compliance executives and other corporate executives on this important topic.

Marquet International has recently hosted a series of lectures on this topic in the Northeast, including Washington, DC, New York and Boston. The lecture covers the following issues and more:

- When To Investigate
- Case Studies In Investigative No No's
- Managing Investigations
- Privacy Restrictions & Ethical Issues
- Other Legal & Regulatory Constraints
- The Limits Of Investigative Tools: Public Records; Interviews; Surveillance; Pretexts; Forensic Accounting; "Dumpster Diving"; Computer Forensics; Sting Operations; "Confidential sources"; Monitoring and other tools

“The approval of the Virginia State Bar for our ethics program validates the importance of this issue for corporate and outside counsel,” said Christopher T. Marquet, CEO of Marquet International. “We hope to obtain approvals from a number of state bar associations for CLE credits in the coming months.”

The presentation is also given at in-house meetings at law firms and outside organizations which may apply for CLE credits in their respective states. Law firms and attorneys interested in attending one of these lectures should e-mail Marquet International at info@marquetinternational.com.
